

It did not escape my notice that this game is pretty nicely suited to running Transmetropolitan style adventures. I hope these inspire you.

• Small electronic box	Weakness: Burglary (-1)
Mostly plants say stuff like, "Thirsty," "Dark," "Windy," or "Fire!" but try hiding in bushes that are saying, "Cuidado. No me machaca."	Edges: Techno-Folk-Trance-Jazz Fusion (Gorgo, -1 when disconnected, +4 when connected, Aspects: Deep, Accepting, Ingenious, Blabbermouth)	The physical person died a while back, but the digital copy continues to exist on the internet pretending to be a Santeria goddess.

These are pre-filled out cards with transhuman weirdness on them. Slip these into the DJ's stacks if you want to highlight the cybernetic and futuristic aspects of the setting.
